

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Phoenix is shipping fruit to Los Angeles.

Silver is quoted in New York at 91 1/2; copper $16.60; lead $4.

Levi P. Morton, of New York, is talked of as the dark horse in the republican convention.

George R. Criswell, of Cochise county, has been appointed a member of the territorial board of equalization.

Citizens of Mohave county are arranging to place a mineral exhibit in the Mechanics' fair, San Francisco, in August.

Two Apache Indians, "Wet-Old-Man" and "Lah-Cahn," have been convicted of murder in Phoenix, in the United States court.

The Tucson Star states that the municipal government of Tucson costs just twice as much as the municipal government of Phoenix.

A Wallapai Indian named "Hell water," started on the war path recently at Kingman with a six shooter. He lodged in the county jail.

Ex-Mayor W. R. Grace, of New York, announces his intention to go before the democratic state convention to make a contest against Governor Hill for the nomination for governor.

Lawyers and litigants are informed that we have just received an entirely new outfit for printing law work of all kinds, and guarantee a better quality of brief work than can be secured elsewhere in the territory.

Col. A. A. Bean, formerly division superintendent of the Southern Pacific at Benson, an old and experienced railroad man, is now superintendent of construction of the railroad being built from San Diego to Lower California.

After reading the last issue of the St. John's Herald, Judge Wright may well say, with all the fervency of his soul: "Good Lord, please deliver me from my friends. May their right arms be paralyzed ere they attempt to write any further vindictive articles."

In the Atlantic & Pacific division headquarters should be transferred from Williams to Prescott Junction. It would make quite a town of the latter place. It is authoritatively stated that the move has been recommended, and is likely to be made before long.

Californians are beginning to realize the advantages possessed by the climate of Prescott, and are taking advantage of it by coming here to recuperate their health. Not one who has tried it does but speak in favorable terms of its life giving health restoring influence.

The St. John's Herald undertaking to strike a blow at one of the members of the bar in its last week's issue missed its aim and struck a severe blow at its own friends. Hon. Sumner Howard and Hon. J. C. Herndon, who happened to be the leading counsel in the cases referred to.

Hurrah for Gresham or any other good man that gets the republican nomination. The man from Maine, Judge Gresham, John Sherman or Senator Allison will fill the bill. With any one of the foregoing the republicans will give the democrats the biggest political whipping they ever experienced.—Citizen.

Samuel J. Randall, in closing his speech on the Mills bill, used the following words: "When I read the history of my country and consider the past and present and reflect upon what is before me, I cannot believe that the idea that went down in the convulsions of 1861 will ever again dominate the industries of the republic." Samuel is working his way over towards the republican camp.

There is only one paper in the territory, which does not endorse the action of the board of directors of the insane asylum in discharging Dr. Mahoney for drunkenness. The board certainly did the correct thing, as the lives and health of the unfortunate of any public institution should not be jeopardized by having them in charge of a physician addicted to intoxication.

Governor Martin, of Kansas, has recently pardoned a man from the penitentiary of that state on condition that he abstain from the use of intoxicating drink. The convict had been sentenced for the killing his wife a number of years ago, while under the influence of liquor. Such conditions of pardon never were imposed before by any governor, but the attorney general advised the governor and stated that the condition will be sustained by the courts.

We have received positive information that improvements on a large scale are being contemplated in Prescott. This is in the highest degree encouraging. We have always contended that no better field exists anywhere for large reduction works, a big hotel and several other enterprises. It has been difficult to make men of means see it, but now we are assured that the right kind of men have their eyes wide open to our advantages in this respect and that they mean business. This is as it should be. When the ball starts to roll nothing can stop it and Prescott will become by long odds the largest city in the southwest.

Democratic politicians are whistling in the dark to keep up their courage. They are reproducing old campaign articles, preaching economy, crying "stop theft," etc., to divert attention from themselves. It will avail them nothing. The people sate. The tax payers have "caught on" long ago, they have been taught by experience and the "kodes" that these load-mouthing leaders who are now attempting to deceive them further, will not do to tie to. With the appearance of the idea of November the protest of the people will be emphatically registered. The fifteenth legislature of Arizona will be republican.

THE SMALL POX SCARE.

The small pox scare, if such it could be called, has ended and there remains nothing more to be said except to request our friends of the press, in a number of the southern towns, to correct the statements which they have been led to make erroneously in regard to its being epidemic here. As stated in our issue of Friday and corroborated by a statement by the health officer of the city, in Saturday's issue, there is not a single case now in the city. There are a great many of our citizens, also who coincide with the statement in this paper, on Friday, that there has not been a well defined case in town. Two of the cases were brought from the country each having symptoms of the disease, while each lacked many of the pronounced symptoms of small pox. One, who died, had unmistakable symptoms of other disease. The other two cases are already well, and even to admit the worst, there is no farther danger existing. It is to be hoped our exchanges will take note of the fact and publish this statement, while our friends who are in the country who have heard such exaggerated reports can allay their fears.

SMALL POX.

We see from some of our southern exchanges that the story is being circulated that Prescott is infected with small pox. We hesitate to charge any one with malicious intent in the matter, but such misrepresentations will surely work serious injury to this community and deserve the severest condemnation. It is too bad that such unfounded rumors should be allowed to gain credence. For the information of the public we make this positive assertion that not a single case of small pox has originated in Prescott, and it is extremely doubtful if any has been developed in this part of the country. There have been three cases of some kind of eruption which started from the mining camp of Jerome, where ores more or less poisonous are being roasted. This may have been small pox, although as to this the doctors are not positive. Only one of the patients went to bed and no new cases of eruption have appeared. Men at the mine, who were annoyed by the rash for a time, continued to work and Jerome is entirely free from disease as is Prescott. While it is wise to observe proper precaution at all times, it is silly, wicked and malicious, for such sensational rumors to be circulated, and we trust that our southern contemporaries who have been so hasty in misrepresenting us will correct their misstatements.

Our democratic brethren seem to have a holy horror of the so-called waving of the "bloody shirt" by republican orators, or the republican press. They seem to forget that for every time this crimson article is unfurled to the breeze on a dozen opportunities for doing so are neglected. Men who fought to preserve the union cause are advised to take into full fellowship those engaged in fighting for treason. But with all the protestations of good faith, on the part of the latter, they go on building monuments, to commemorate the cause of treason and disunion, and by their acts show that the cause is still dear to them. The latest glorification of this kind occurred recently at Jackson, Miss. at the unveiling of a Confederate monument there. The arch traitor of the confederacy, Jeff Davis, was invited to be present, to exhibit himself to the rising generation, as a shining example for them to follow, but on account of ill health was unable to do so. He was represented by his daughter, and the enthusiastic friends, of this man with out a country, to whose hearts the fires of treason burn, apparently as bright as ever, presented her with a silver crown for her father.

The last issue of the St. John's Herald devotes about a quarter of a column to an incoherent denial of having cast aspersions on Judge Wright's predecessors, as recently charged by this paper, winding it up with a repetition of its former charge. The words used were to the effect that Judge Wright had been the first judge who had occupied the bench in Apache county who was not influenced in his decisions by the railroad company. If that does not directly injure all the judges of the Third Judicial district, previous to the present one, were corrupt, we have no yet learned to understand the import of the English language. The gentleman who is accredited with editing the Herald and running the office of district attorney of Apache county, as well as, evidently not been away from Mississippi long enough to learn that four years before Judge Wright was ever heard of in Arizona, and about six years previous to the illumination of Apache county by this luminary from the sunny south, a chief justice of this territory rendered a decision in these same tax cases, substantially and practically the same as the much-boasted and immaculate honest one spoken of by the Herald.

With United Verde, Copper Basin, Senator, Bradshaw Basin, Congress and other mining enterprises in full blast, with large reduction works in Prescott, and the railroad extended to Phoenix, a long-desired era of prosperity will have been reached, and this will be the most lively and productive mining section in the country. Our mountains will be full of happy toilers after precious metals, and our large agricultural valleys and immense stretches of grazing land will be full of industry and life. Our commercial interests will grow comparatively and Prescott, as the natural distributing point for a great area of country, will be a large and prosperous city.

The democrats in the senate are fighting shy of the fishery treaty accorded to Washington telegrams. The more it is discussed the more evident it becomes that the democrats are anxious to conceal as much as possible its defects from the public. In fact it is nothing more nor less than an abject surrender to Great Britain, and they fear that a public discussion will expose the shortcomings of the administration. The democrats are anxious to postpone any consideration of the treaty until after the presidential election, but they can only do this by filibustering, and that will embarrass the administration about as much as the exposure of the treaty. It is believed that the democrats dare not take the responsibility of obstructing public business to hide the shortcomings of the president.

Citizens of Washington Territory are said to be indignant at the decision of Judge Nash at Spokane Falls, declaring the woman suffrage law unconstitutional. A year ago Judge Turner declared the old act unconstitutional and the supreme court sustained the decision. The legislature re-passed the law last winter. Judge Nash is a recent appointee of Cleveland. He was a law partner of Garfield the present attorney-general and is an uncompromising democrat. He made his decision orally in a test case, and there is no doubt that the supreme court of the territory, which meets in July, will confirm his decision. Judge Nash, in making the decision, quoted the infamous Dred Scott decision, that Scott was a native-born American, but the supreme court held that he was not a man within the meaning of the Constitution of the United States.

A Michigan exchange notes the return of George Sutton and wife from San Diego, California, on account, as it says, that the southern air did not agree with his wife's health, she being afflicted with lung difficulty. If Mr. Sutton will bring his wife to Prescott he will find that our pure, dry air, at an altitude of over a mile above sea level, with the fresh, invigorating and life-giving perfume from our forests of pine, will alleviate her lung difficulties, as hundreds can testify who have experienced beneficial results from it. He and his invalid wife will find here an atmosphere not laden with damp fogs, as that article is not known here. They will find the air pure and dry, and unless in the very last stages of consumption, we can guarantee a benefit to lung trouble from it.

A mass meeting of citizens was held in Holbrook on Friday night last for the purpose of inaugurating a campaign for the removal of the county seat from St. Johns to that place. The meeting was harmonious and enthusiastic, and a vigorous campaign will be made to secure this object. Holbrook has the support of the town of Winslow as well as the stockmen and ranchers in the country tributary to it, south of the place. The town agrees to donate land for county buildings and will subscribe liberally for the erection of the same. As the county has no public buildings of any importance it can not sustain any loss by the removal of the county seat to Holbrook, which is the most eligible place for it.

The Flagstaff Champion comes to us this week enlarged one column and otherwise improved reflecting much credit on its able editor, Geo. H. Tinker. This gentleman took charge of this paper two years ago, when it was a very sickly, puny little sheet, and by dint of untiring energy and perseverance combined with ability and sound judgment has built up into one of the best papers in the territory. He has not only been successful in building up the paper, but through his influence has assisted very largely in building up a prosperous town in the northern part of our county. Flagstaff owes much of her success and prosperity to the Champion and its editor, Geo. H. Tinker.

General Robert G. Schenck, for expressing the wish that we had a thousand legions in this country, is accused by the democratic organs of knowing more about poker than he knows about politics. If we bear in mind, however, that the wish was inspired and its utterance provoked by the foolhardy play of Daniel Webster Voorhees, we shall realize that General Schenck can estimate ascendancy (which means "be up") a man who is bluffing on a pair of deuces against a full hand in politics as accurately as he has the reputation of doing so in the intricate strategic pastime known as poker.—E.

South Carolina democrats have organized a state prohibition alliance. Its object is declared to be a legal prohibition of the manufacture of and traffic in alcoholic beverages within the state. Politics was ruled out and it was determined to work for prohibition within the democratic lines.

Want Veal.

Mason, of Illinois, in his speech against the tariff bill in the house spoke of the southern brigadiers as prodigal but not the kind that said "Father, I have sinned against thee, I am not worthy to be one of the family; make me a hussier, but they came in at the front door; wiped their feet on the carpet and tried to drink out of the fire extinguisher. You don't wait for the fitted calf," said he, "you put your feet on the mantel, and say, 'What I want is veal!'"

In a Western Hotel. Guest (calling down through speaking tube)—"Quick! I want shall I do? There's a man under the bed."

Night Clerk—Sleep on top of the bed; it doesn't rest any more.—E.

"Amanda," said her mother sharply, "I heard that young man kiss you as he said good night. I want to know what he does for a living?" "He is a disciple of Esculapius, mamma," replied Amanda, demurely.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

The supreme court of California has decided that Goldenrod, the slayer of Mamie Kelley must hang.

General Sheridan's illness is considered alarming by his physicians. His trouble is valvular affection of the heart.

The treasury surplus which fell to $96,000,000 at one time during the month has again risen to $101,000,000.

Reuben Drake and his wife and two grandchildren were found murdered in their beds recently at Viola, Wisconsin. No clue to the murderers.

The work of the removal of the Libby prison from Richmond, Va., to Chicago is to begin at once. The price paid for it is said to be $23,000.

The monkeys are so thick in the State of Tabasco, Mexico, that it is almost impossible to build a telegraph line. They will get on and swing under the wire breaks.

At a meeting of the nearly four thousand employees of Mr. John Wanamaker's Thirtieth, Chestnut and Market street store on the evening of May 7, 1888, $109,439.68 was given the employees, as a result of the first year of the profit-sharing plan at Wanamaker's.

A Berlin telegram of the 26th says: Prince Henri and Princess Irene were married in the chapel of Charlottenburg yesterday. The bride and bridegroom are first cousins and are grandchildren of Queen Victoria, of England, Princess Irene being a daughter of the late Princess Alice.

The city of Duluth, Minnesota, has suddenly loomed into importance from the fact that it has in storage nearly half of all the wheat in the United States, about 9,000,000 bushels. If what crops should be very short this year Duluth grain merchants are likely to pile up a good many shekels.

Three prisoners, two tramps and Ed Chamberlain, who murdered his sweetheart, Etta Wittenberg, at Reynolds six weeks ago, assaulted the sheriff with an iron bar and made their escape from jail at Delphi, Indiana. The sheriff's injuries are fatal. The whole country for miles around is aroused, and it is thought that Chamberlain will be captured.

A Kumpke, a farmer living near Columbus, Nebraska, who murdered his wife a few weeks ago by beating her brains out with a club, was found hanging dead in his cell. He used his suspenders and handkerchief for the noose. He left a letter saying that he wished to save the county further expense on his account, asking to be buried beside his wife.

Virtuous Simplicity.

The unsophisticated sons and daughters of Venezuela challenge the admiration of the world in this degenerate age for the magnificent simplicity of their manners. From a statement published in a local paper and copied into the Panama Star and Herald, it appears that in the far interior there are no churches of any kind, and it is only at intervals of many months, even of years sometimes that priests can visit these distant villages to baptize and marry and hence results a curious state of things as far as marriage is concerned. Men and women are accustomed to live together as husbands and wives in strict honor and faith until the priest does come to marry them. Then both church and state legalize the union and all children resulting, and no one finds fault. "I saw one man in Caracas," says the correspondent, "whose wife had borne him sixteen sons in succession before he married her. Then the opportunity came and they are looked upon as entirely on equal."

PUT ME ON THE LIST.

After using four bottles of Joy's Vegetable Sanitizer, I write to say that you may also use my name, as an additional authority, for the statement that it will cure dyspepsia and liver and kidney disease. It has done it for me.
